

ACTIVITIES

Nestlé Research Center has over 600 people representing a diverse range of scientific competencies. Nestlé scientists study all aspects of food and its Packaging – from Nutrition & Health and Food Science & Technology, to Pleasure during Consumption and Quality & Safety.

ACTINPAK FOCUS

Provide the brandowners perspective on future developments in active and intelligent fibre-based packaging. Insight into needs, applicability and market relevance and possible barriers towards implementation.