

ACTIVITIES

The higher Institute of Engineering (ISE), integrated into the Polytechnic subsystem of Algarve's University, aims at teaching and researching in engineering and technology in Food Engineering specialties, Civil Engineering, Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Mechanical Engineering and Topographic Engineering. It is also provides services to the community and to the development of technology transfer projects in partnership with the corporate sector.

ACTINPAK FOCUS

Development of active packaging systems to improve and extend food products shelf-life

- 1-Development of films with Chitosan
- 2-Development of chitosan films with microcapsules
- 3-Development of films from plant origin